

In November, 2005, I was diagnosed with Trigeminal Neuralgia. After 5 months of consulting with several neurologists; with minimal results, I did some research on my own and found Dr. Strittmatter. Dr. Strittmatter is an upper cervical chiropractor practicing the NuCCA treatment.

Immediately at the first visit, after hearing about my condition, he made me feel very comfortable in his office. He's a very caring, pleasant, and friendly Doctor. After several visits, I experienced some relief and was able to wash my face, brush my teeth, and chew again. This was all impossible until I started my treatments with Dr. Strittmatter.

I am now free of face pain. His treatments helped give me my life back. This is the only treatment I would recommend to someone with Trigeminal Neuralgia.
